A COMPREHENSIVE REVIEW OF LOCAL ANAESTHESIA FOR DENTAL HYGIENISTS

Registered dental hygienists who have taken a local anaesthesia program, but would like a review course or for those who are required by the College of Dental Hygienists of BC to take a review course, are invited to participate in SESSION I of the Local Anaesthesia program being offered by Continuing Dental Education this fall.

A Comprehensive Review of Local Anaesthesia is a two-day comprehensive review designed to teach and revisit basic and current concepts of local anaesthesia and administration of local anaesthetic agents. Come and participate in two full days that include lectures and an opportunity for hands-on practice of clinical techniques. Participants must be currently registered in British Columbia. As participants practice on each other, you must be able to receive local anaesthesia or you must provide a consenting stand-in for your partner.

COURSE OBJECTIVES
Please note, there is no grading component to the review course. Upon completion of this course participants will be able to:
1. Describe head and neck anatomy related to the administration of local anaesthetic agents
2. Describe principles of pharmacology related to local anaesthetic agents and adrenergic drugs
3. Demonstrate the various techniques involved in the administration of local anaesthetic agents
4. Explain patient evaluation, complications and office emergencies as related to local anaesthesia
