

UBC Dental Hygiene Graduate Outcomes Survey

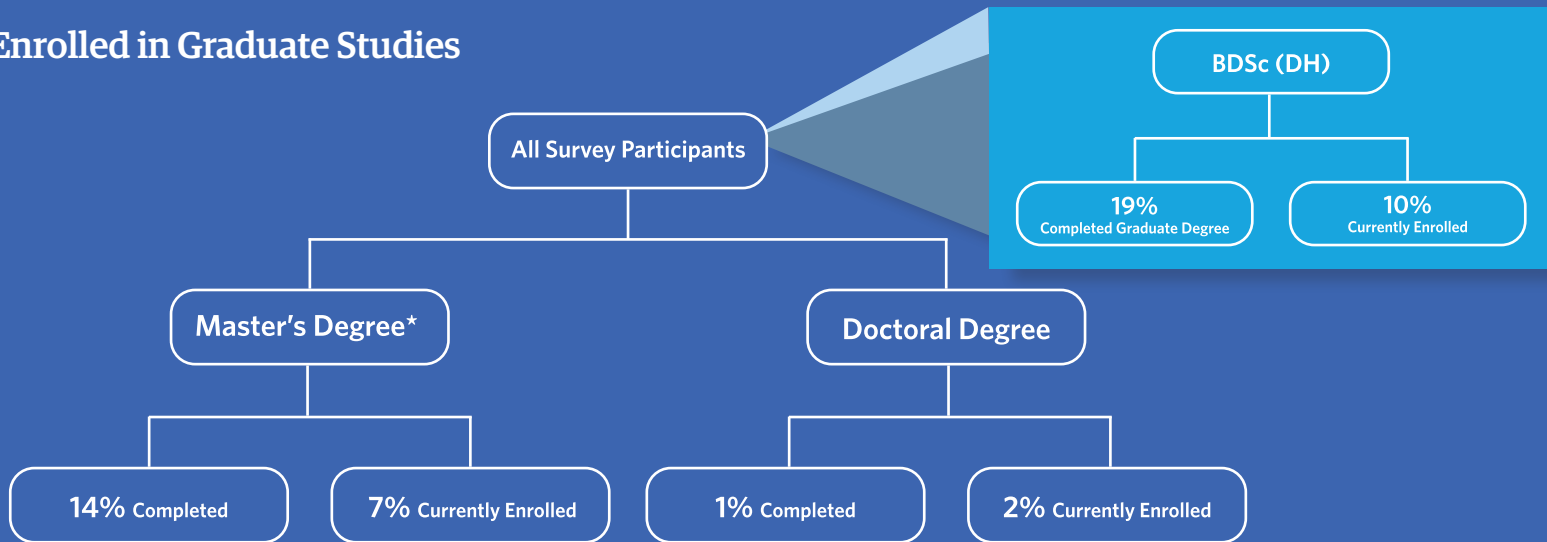

Survey conducted by: Drs. Zul Kanji, Leeann Donnelly, Denise Laronde

In December 2020, over a two-week period, UBC Dental Hygiene graduates were surveyed. Dental Hygiene graduates from the Faculty of Dentistry include those who earned either a Dental Hygiene Diploma or a Bachelor of Dental Science (Dental Hygiene) degree. This survey sought to understand the professional practice setting(s) of Dental Hygiene graduates and any graduate education pursued. Over 250 graduates responded to this survey (response rate 40%).

Our Graduates:

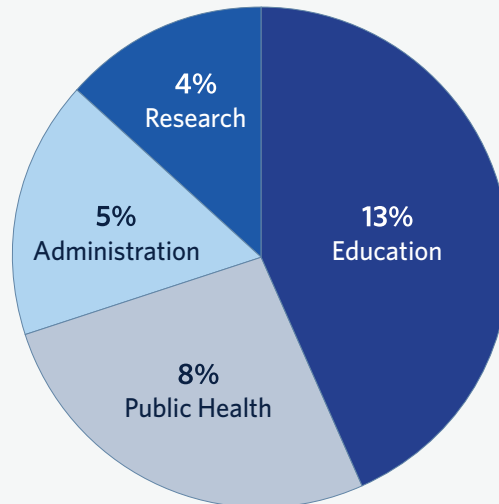

Enrolled in Graduate Studies

*most common Master's Degrees: MSc, MEd, MPH

Of those who were not enrolled in, or have not completed graduate studies, 42% are interested in pursuing a graduate degree.

30% of all survey participants are working outside of Clinical Practice

note: could be working part-time in the clinic

4% of all survey participants are independent practitioners, or own their own practices
