CLINICIAN

AMANDA WILSON, DDS, MDS is a native of San Francisco, obtained her dental education from UCSF Dental School and her Masters of Dental Science and Orthodontics Certification at the University of Connecticut. She practiced clinically ten years in the San Francisco Bay Area and during that time completed thousands of orthodontic cases, both fixed and removable. Following her calling to teach and mentor, she eventually transitioned into corporate dentistry and has worked the last six years as a Dental Director and Consultant to both national and international orthodontic companies, with an emphasis on early treatment, functional appliances, aligners and tele-dentistry. In 2016, recognizing the lack of orthodontic coaching services that cater directly to General Dentists, she became passionate about filling this space and founded her own orthodontic management and coaching company, StraightSmile Solutions®. Currently, Dr. Amanda resides with her family in Honolulu, Hawaii but she travels often both nationally and internationally to meet with her clients and teams. She enjoys surfing and hiking and is a Cadette Girl Scout Leader and USA Swimming Official. She's also bilingual in German.
